Every matter starts with uncertainty. Case teams struggle to manage the budget and set appropriate expectations amid a sea of unknowns—relevant material, data types, number of custodians, data locations, which eDiscovery partners to use—that have the potential to thwart the project's budget and timeline.

Consilio's V3locity solution is your hedge against these unknowns, ensuring a high-quality, defensible production that does not break your budget. With V3locity, we manage your entire eDiscovery process—processing, hosting, document review, production and project management—for a fixed-cost pricing model that typically saves our clients between 30-55%. And with over 70 regions with Consilio presence, we can support your matter regardless of jurisdiction.

How We Do It

The V3locity model sits on a foundation of battle-tested, defensible processes, a team with expertise across the EDRM life cycle, and industry-leading technologies. Most organisations struggle with one or more of these building blocks, creating inefficiencies that you invariably pay for either in terms of time, money or production quality. But our expertise yields a seamless process from processing through productions, enabling us to create a predictable, fixed-cost price based on the documents sent to review.

Lower Cost, Higher Quality

Cost and quality are usually inversely proportional—not so with V3locity. The same unique capabilities that enable us to control costs also serve as the foundation for a playbook of defensible processes that result in high-quality productions. All of the following are included as part of the V3locity solution:[1]

- Data Processing: With over ten petabytes of data processed, we have the tools and best practices to process even the most complex data corpuses.

- Immediate Case Assessment™ (ICA®): The engagement starts with the ICA—a data overview that includes substantive document and custodian analyses, a population overview and an analysis of search terms resulting in both search strategies and identification of irrelevant data categories.

- Multidisciplinary Project-Management Team: Each V3locity engagement is assigned an experienced project manager who is backed by a team of forensic collection experts, processing engineers, hosting specialists, data analysts and review managers.

- Secure Data Hosting: Our secure data centers around the world are ISO 27001/SAS 70 and/or Type 2/SSAE 16 certified, and third parties cannot access our infrastructure.

- Technology & Workflow: Consilio integrates its industry-leading processing, analytics and review technologies into a single reporting server across the matter's life cycle, allowing for easy chain-of-custody verification.

- Document Review Services: With review capabilities available in more than 20 countries worldwide, we leverage our management expertise, thousands of highly qualified and efficient reviewers, and workflow and quality assurance best practices to produce a cost-effective, high-quality and defensible review.
